The world as we know it is changing at an accelerated pace. With all our tremendous efforts taking us through Industry 4.0, and as we enter the A.I. revolution, our simplicity in life is being interrupted by external distractions. Some days you spring out of bed, other days not so much. Regardless of how you feel, anything less than your best is time you can never get back.

Wouldn't it be nice to recall a name to match a face? Want to remember where you put your keys or where you parked your car?

We've made it possible to create the ultimate shift in the way you think and process thanks to our leading-edge nanoceutical.

Where most nootropics, or energy drinks work only in the first stage, and few in the second, Velovita's benefits you in all 3 stages by taking it daily.

FUEL YOUR BRAIN, FEED YOUR MIND

Why are Nootropics Important?

The term "nootropic" is derived from the Ancient Greek words νόος (nóos) meaning "mind" and τροπή (tropé) meaning "a turning".

Nootropics are cognitive technology that act like an enhancer to play a vital part in our daily diet, even if you think you're healthy. These added supplements may improve cognitive function, notably executive actions, creativity, motivation or memory, so you can perform at your utmost peak.

brān® was formulated by taking into account the functions, processes and complexity of the brain. We created a stacked nootropic with key nutrients and a powerful potency packed in just a 15 ml dosage at a most affordable price point. Each snap contains 100 mg of green coffee bean (natural caffeine) and 20 mg Niacin, which is nearly the same as drinking a cup of coffee but without the jitters!

What is Nanotechnology?

We have learned throughout the years that tablets are difficult to digest and gel capsules have a better bioavailability when processed through the gut biome. Today, we employ nanoparticles in nutraceuticals as the next generation of health and biohacking for solubility, stability and improved absorption rates.

Nanotechnology is the science of reducing particles to 100 nm (nanometer) or less, which can make many compounds more easily digested. That is why Velovita's scientists have created a proprietary formulation to enhance the body's response to our nutrient-rich serum that acts quickly to deliver energy to your brain so that you can snap back into life instantly!

Did you Know?

"Medications, poor vision and hearing, sleep deprivation, and depression also can interfere with brain function, and thus cognitive ability."
